means, although many who are well up in the 400 took part in it. It was a democratic gathering, open to any one who could produce a ticket which had been sold for a quarter or was willing to pay an admission fee of 50 cents at the gate. Nassau county seemed to be not only willing, but anxious, to give up half dollars to mingle

It was the first time that Harbor Hill had been thrown open to the public, and the local population decided that it was an opportunity not to be neglected. So, mingled with the crowds of well dressed "smart" people who came from New York in trains and automobiles and the summer cottagers who drove over to Roslyn with coachmen and footmen were many persons from the country round, dressed in their Sunday-go-to-meetin' best and resolved to see just exactly what kind of a fair the wife of a millionaire would pro-

Mrs. Mackay announced some time ago that she wished every one to come who desired to. She wanted her fair to be somewhat democratic, and she got her wish. As to its success from the standpoint of the country visitors, opinions differed The women declared that the fair was the greatest show they had ever seen. Part of the "400" was on show, beautiful gowns were to be seen everywhere, and not a few went away happy in the thought that they had apoken to Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Miss Cynthia Roche or others who figure in the Newport

The men, however, weren't so enthuon view to be discussed; no sideshows that they could afford to see, and mighty little to interest them anyway. One of them summed up his views in one short sentence as he turned the family buggy out of the Mackay lodge gate and started for home.

'The Mineola County Fair makes this look like a summer squash lined up b'side a prize pumpkin."

From every other standpoint the fair was a success, and the Nassau Hospital will be richer by several thousand dollars. From 1 o'clock, when the lodge gates were thrown open, until 7, when the fair was over, a crowd niled the spacious main floor of the big mansion and jammed around the different booths with a rush that might well be likened to a Monday bargain sale.

booths with a rush that might well be likened to a Monday bargain sale.

Every train that stopped at the Mineola station brought swarms of visitors, so many, in fact, that there were not rigs enough by half to transport them a mile up the hill to the Mackay house. That was where Johnnie Remsen, the village liveryman, made up for a bad season's business. Every carriage he could produce was sant up the hill loaded to the guards with passengers who contributed 25 cents apiece to Johnnie's pocketbook.

who contributed 25 cents apiece to Johnnie's pocketbook.

Johnnie has a big, old-fashioned market wagon. In that he set up soap boxes, laid boards across them for seats and started it on its first trip loaded down with fashionaby dressed women who didn't seem to mind how they reached the fair, so long as they got there.

got there.

The farm wagon made many trips in the afternoon and the sight of it preceeding $10,000 automobiles and perfectly appointed runabouts made people smile as they remembered Mrs. Mackay's wish that the fair should be democratic.

The fair made a lot of money. One rule which was rigidly enforced swelled the receipts greatly. That rule was made known by signs, one of which was posted at the gate where admission tickets were bought. where admission tickets were bought, The sign read "No Change Given," and the unfortunate who offered a two dollar bill to pay his way in found that the admission ated with red, while and blue bunting, and to the left of the big building in the Roman Court a miniature outdoor theatre had Court a miniature outdoor theatre had been constructed where a intervals a sleigh of-hand artist made two handkerchiefs into one and caused diamond rings to be found inside red apples. In secluded corners fortune tellers and a phrenologist had little In the rear of the dwelling stood a small basket cart, to which was hitched a very well behaved donkey. The cart, it was basket cart, to which was hitched a very well behaved donkey. The cart, it was said, was once used by the present Duchess of Marlborough and was donated by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont. Mrs. Oliver Bell gave the donkey to complete the outfit. The donkey and cart were raffled off by Miss Eleanor Jay and Miss Cynthia Roche, who believed to the cart was a change to said the said of the cart was a change to said the said of the said begged every one in sight to take a chance Chances were $2 apiece with "no change," and the Misses Jav and Roche did a rush one of the first persons to take a chance on the donkey was O. H. P. Belmont. The moment he appeared and before the fair had really got started, Miss Jay made a rush for him.

really got started, hiss say hade a rush for him.

"Oh, Mr. Belmont," she said, "won't you please take a chance on the donkey?"

"Being a good Democrat, I will," he answered, and the raffle book started with a $10 donation. Mr. Belmont then literally took his coat off and went to work. Not far from the scene of the donkey raffle was a booth on which were a large number of glasses, two big punchbowls, one filled with lemonade and one with elaret cup, and several bottles filled with various liquors, cherries and olives. The sign above the booth said that lemonade and claret cup were 50 cents, and pretty soon claret cup were 50 cents, and pretty soon Mr. Belmont and former State Senator Cocks, each clad in white duck coats, ap-the bar and asked for a dry one without an olive. Mr. Belmont appealed to Senator

"I thought they were going to have them I prepared and bottled," said he, "but I on t find 'em."

don't find 'em."

"Bottled nothing," answered the Senator.

"Here's the stuff. We're to make 'em."

Mr Belmont looked as if he'd like to out his job then and there, but he didn't. He grabbed a shaker, poured some things into it, squirted in dashes of something else, shock the mixture up well and poured it out.

The buyer drank it down. "Pretty fair for the first attempt," he remarked, "but don't you know that nobody ever mixes cocktails in a shaker? Ought to do it in a bar glass and stir it with a spoon."

I know it "penjing the volunteer dis-

"I know it," replied the volunteer dis-penser, "but this way is quicker."

Later on in the afternoon Mr. Belmont was mixing them with a speed that would have astonished even bires. ve astonished even himself could be have witnessed the operation, and was asking patrons whether they would have a cherry or an olive as naturally as if he had been loing the same thing for years.

Inside the house the entire first floor had been thrown open to accommodate the visitors, and here and there booths, fashioned after chalets with thatched roofs of straw had been placed. At one of them Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Miss Laura Swan, Mrs. William B. Leeds and Miss Janet Fish, all dressed in simple Puritan gray, sold sorts of toys, from miniature automo-all sorts of toys, from miniature automobiles that cost $25 down to toy balloons that sold for a quarter.

Across the room Mrs. William Butler Duncan, Mrs. H. B. Parsons, Mrs. Francis K. Pemberton, and Mrs. Maitland Armstrong, got up as European peasants, took

ALL NASSAU AT MACKAY FAIR

COUNTRYSIDE JOINS 400 IN SWELLING HOSPITAL FUND.

It was Fifty Cents to Get In, but More to Get Out, With the "No Change" Rulein Force—Oille Belmont a Speedy if I northodox Bartender—Receipts Large
The fair which Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay estate in Roslyn, for the benefit of the Nassau Hospital, will probably be the only topic of conversation in most of the homes within a radius of twenty miles to-day, for a great part of the population of the county was present.

The fair wasn't a society event by any means, although many who are well up when the sleight-of-hand artist began his show in the Roman court the box office receipts in that particular department were not so large as had been expected. Mrs. Mackay took that in in a moment and moved the gypsy orchestra, which had been playing inside, to the lawn near the trickster. Then she paid the admissions of a number of children to fill up some of the vacant chairs and urged her visitors to go in and see the show.

"This entertainment is for grown-ups as well as children," she announced. "All go in; it's only a quarter."

Her plea had its effect and the trickster soon had a good sized crowd watching him. Then Mrs. Mackay turned her attention to something else.

At a picture booth six photographs bearing the signature of President Roosevelt and a like number of the Democratic candidate were raffied off at fifteen cents a chance. The booth did a rushing business and, as far as was indicated by the returns, the candidates ran about even.

Mrs. Mackay was enthusiastic over the success of her fair.

"I can't tell how much we have made"

Mrs. Mackay was enthusiastic over the success of her fair.

"I can't tell how much we have made," she said in the afternoon, "but I know it's a lot. Why, we had received $3,000 for admission tickets long before the fair began at all."

When the receipts were counted late last night it was estimated that the fair had realized about $7,000.

AT TUXEDO PARK.

All the Cottages Now Occupied-Tennis Tournament-Parties and Dinners.

TUXEDO PARK, Sept. 24.-Although the weather looked threatening all day, it did not interfere with the society folk at Tuxedo. All of the cottages are now occupied, and every one will entertain largely throughout the autumn. Mr. and Mrs. George F. Baker, who returned from abroad last week, are entertaining many guests siastic. There weren't any prize pumpkins at the old Griswolden Cottage over Sunday, as are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kessler, who occupy the Brice cottage.

The feature of the week's end was the tournament at the tennis courts. which attracted a large audience. Several matches are in progress for the interclub

Among the new arrivals at the cottages to-day were Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Pooler, at the Ballard Smith cottage on West Lake road; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Page, Mrs. C. N. Haven, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tilford and Mme. Bonaparte, who passed the summer in Washington.

Several parties were given to-day, including those of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kessler, Mr. F. A. Juilliard, Mr. and Mrs. R. Fulton Cutting, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mortimer-Mr. and Mrs Henry S. Redmond, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Post, Mr. and Mrs. Price Collier. Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Poor, Mr. and Mrs. Zarris Fahnestock, Mr. W. M. N. Rodewald, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. V. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Howland Pell and Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Monell.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew, who were abroad during the summer, arrived at the club the early part of the week and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison are at the Winter Club for the autumn.

Mr. and Mrs. Newbold Edgar, who were abroad during the summer, will return to their Tuxedo house, and Mr. and Mrs. John Greenough, who were at Gloucester-by-the-Sea, will open their villa early next the-Sea, will open their villa early next month.

Mrs. Bruce Price, who passed the summer in Germany, has returned and is stopping with her daughter, Mrs. Edwin M. Post, on Peppery Ridge road.

Philip King is the guest of Mrs. C. L. Best at the Hrr ison cottage over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. George R. Gibson entertained

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Choson entertained a party at their cottage dinner to-night.

Among their guests were many of the Tuxedo colonists invited to meet their honored guests, Neilson Winthrop and Gerald Winthrop of Nice, France.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Halsey, who corred their new villa early last week opened their new villa early last week, entertained at dinner on Thursday, and Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley, who arrived from abroad, entertained at dinner to-

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Voss will open Mr. and airs. Witten Mr. voss with open their new villa for the season the first week in October. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spencer will arrive from Europe and occupy their cottage for the autumn. Mrs. James Brown Lord, who passed the

Mrs. James Brown Lord, who passed the autumn in town, arrived at the club to-day. Among other arrivals were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Allen A. Robbins, Lucius Wilmerding, Jr., L. H. Chapin, Harold Winthrop, T. Sanford Beatty, E. F. Preston, Frederick H. Deiter, James Brown Potter, Miss Ada Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Johnson, Charles Draper, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Van Nostrand, George W. Van Nest, Philip King and Mme. Bonaparte.

Luncheon to Archbishop of Canterbury. WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 .- The Eishop of Washington and Mrs. Satterlee invited as guests at luncheon to-day, to meet the Archbishop of Canterbury and Mrs. Davidson, Sir Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador; Gen. and Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. Hitchcock, wife of the Secretary of the Interior; Mrs. Gardiner Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell, Admiral Dewey, Bishop and Mrs. Doane, Gen. Crozier, J. Pierpont Morgan, Gen. Wilson, Mr. Wilmer, C. C. Glover and Mr. Holden.

Killed by the Discharge of His Own Gun. ITHACA, Sept. 24.-Harold Metcalf, the seventeen-year-old son of a farmer living in G oton, near here, was killed to-day by the discharge of a shotgun. Young Metcalf was about to get into a buggy to return from a hunting trip and was putting his gun into the back of the vehicle, when the trigger caught upon some obstacle and gun into the back of the venicle, when the trigger caught upon some obstacle and discharged the full contents of one of the barrels in his abdomen. He lingered with full consciousness for several hours, and coolly explained how the accident had happened, criticising himself for having left the gun cooked.

New Concerts of Russian Music.

Count Cassini notified Modest Altschuler conductor of the Russin Symphony Society, yesterday that he will take a box for th yesterday that he will take a lox for the series of concerts of Russian music which the society will give this season in Carnegie Hall. The concerts last year were given in the Cooper Union. The first of the Carnegie Hall series will be in honor of the centenary of the founder of modern music, Clinka, on Nov. 19.

Damrosch Symphony Concerts.

Walter Damrosch has selected ten new me abers for the New York Symphony Orchestra out of the sixty-four applicants who were tried. The oschestra now numbers eighty-seven. Six Sunday afternoon concerts will be given at Carnegie Hall beginning on Nov. 6.

Weber Music Hall Ready for Opening. Invitations have been sent out to the friends of Weber & Ziegfeld to attend the K. Pemberton and Mrs. Maitland Armstrong, got up as European peasants, took turns selling fancy work at prices which.

A. Jaeckel & Co.

FURRIERS and IMPORTERS

Our models for the coming season are now ready for inspection, showing a most attractive departure in fashions from the preceding year.

Long and Short Coats, in Directoire and 1860 Period Styles.

Stoles, Muffs, French Novelty Pieces, Evening and Carriage Coats, examples of the foremost European houses, together with our own models, with their usual originality in conception.

37 UNION SQUARE, West.

LIVE TOPICS ABOUT TOWN.

In the get lunch quick places there has appeared within a few days as certain an indication of approaching winter as the donning of their long coats by the policemen. Supplementary to the warning that "the proprietor will not be responsible for articles unless checked with the cashier, "there has been tacked up the old familiar placard: "Watch your overcoat and hat." It evidently isn't worth while to hang up the warning for hats alone.

A gang of laborers has been at work for a week mending the asphalt in front of the Criminal Courts building in Centre street. A brawny young Irishman from the gang went into Tom Foley's saloon the other morning and called for a glass of whiskey. He filled up the glass, drank the contents and nut a nickel on the bar.

"Pretty big drink for a nickel," said the bartender, not turning a hair. "It'll cost you a dime." "Sure, I know nothin' about yer money," replied the laborer, pulling out a handful of coins. "I've only been here two days." The barten der explained a few values to

The barten der explained a few values to him. Then he asked the Irishman what pay he was to get.

"Sure, I don't know," said the man, "but the foreman says I'm to get this," and out came a slip of paper on which was written "$1.75 a day."

The Irishman went about his work, and it was noticeable that all day long he worked hard. The next morning he was back in Foley's again.

"I'm tired," he remarked to his friend, the bartender. "Sure, I've been a fool workin' so harrd. Just watch me swing the hammer to-day."

workin' so harrd. Just watch me swing the hammer to-day."

He didn't display so much energy that day. At night he was back in the saloon.

"Sure, did yez see me work to-day? I'm not so tired," he said. Then in a whisper, "but, me lad, can yez tell me phwere I could get an application fer the Police Deparrtmint?"

No store window in the city has a finer display than that on the northwest corner of St. Nicholas avenue and 155th street Through the overcrowding of the public school near by the store has been pre-empted for a class of little girls. The children, hard at work with primers and slates, are the most attractive sight in the world to almost every passerby.

A crowd began to assemble on the park corner at Madison avenue and Twentythird street yesterday afternoon. As the minutes pas proportions that the sidewalks were blocked for a hundred feet up the avenue and toward roadway. A policeman rushed over and began to push his way to the centre of the jostling assemblage. The crowd grew larger. Two other guardians of the peace went to the first cop's assistance. Order was restored and the throng dispersed. The small boy who had been feeding two squirrels with peanuts looked up in amazement when ordered to move on.

"Can't I feed the bunnies?" he asked.

"Yes, sonny, if you go up in Central Park," replied the cop, "but not down here. There are too many rubbernecks."

A woman of methodical habits and rigid observance of a system in her household must have arranged this telegraph blank which her husband lost in the street one night last week and a messenger picked up. it reads:

"Jennie had a ______ born at _____ o'clock.
Both doing well. Fine _____ weighing _____ WALTER. pounds. WALTER."

"That's good enough so far as it goes," remarked the man to whom the finder showed it, "but what would Walter have done, if it had been twins—like Jones's. All those forms would have been wasted."

"Matches Mary" is back on Broadway. Time brings no change in her. Behind the black goggles that cover her eyes the oldest first nighter has never seen.

"It wouldn't seem like Broadway without Mary," said a rounder the other evening. "I've bought wax tapers from her for nearly a quarter of a century. looks as young now as she did when I first saw her."
Mary, like every other street vendor of Mary, like every other street vendor of celebrity, is the reputed owner of several tenement bouses in that vague region "uptown," as the result of her thrift.

"G'wan," ahe says when asked about her property. "I don't own nothin'. If it warn't fer the matches I couldn't live."

A turkey buzzard, the scavenger bird proected in Charleston and other Southern cities, has been a habitant this fall of the strip of country between Bath Beach and Coney Island Creek. The buzzard seems to be a bachelor bird, for only one has been seen. Some time each afternoon for the last month the buzzard, flying at a height of about 100 feet above the ground, sweeps over the Marine and Field and Dyker Meadow golf links and circles off toward Frospect Park.

Despite the law prohibiting the sale of obsters under ten inches in length plenty of little lobsters-the sea food kind-are eing sold now in New York. Most of them are caught illegally in Jamaica Bay. In fact so bold have the poachers become there that fears are felt lest the efforts made recently by the Fish Commissioner to promote the industry in these parts be entirely frustrated and the supply expensed.

It may be asked what becomes of the small lobsters. Few dealers have the temerity to expose them for sale. According to the fish dealers, however, they are being sold by the carely and the sale. are being sold by the cartloads to the can-ning companies and New York is eating them in the form of canned lobster. In that way a delicious and forbidden food is tickling city palates nowadays.

The day of the brass megaphone is over. The latest thing in a megaphone mouthpiece is one built like a big morning glory and colored accordingly, red, white or blue.

They are very showy, and dealers expect a big sale for them

IN SOCIETY.

Theatre and supper parties have been numerous, and some elaborate dinners have been given at the new St. Regis and Astor hotels, as well as at the Astoria, Del-monico's and Sherry's. Just now there is a deal of shopping being done for bridal presents in anticipation of the October weddings.

The Church Club will give a dinner next Tuesday night at the Hotel Astor to Dr. Davidson, Archbishop of Canterbury.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould will pass their first Sunday since they returned from abroad at Georgian Court, Lakewood, N. J.

The Long Island autumnal season is now in full swing. A dinner dance was given last night at the Meadow Brook clubhouse by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont in honor of Miss Eleanor Jay selmont in honor of Miss Eleanor Jay and her flancé, Arthur Iselin. Many of the cottagers have week end house parties, their guests having attended the Mineola fair and Meadow Brook Horse Show.

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt are due to arrive here on Tuesday, on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. They will go directly to Idle Hour, their place at Oakdale. The house has been considerably enlarged during their absence, and they are likely to do a great deal of entertaining.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi P. Morton and their daughters, Mme. H. Morton, formerly Duchess de Valencay, and Miss Mary Morton, may return to Europe for the winter. They are now at Ellerslie, their country place at Rhinebeck-on-the-Hudson.

The Duke and Duchess of Manchester have decided to come over early in December and to pass their Christmas holidays in New York in company with the Duchess's in New York in company with the Duchess's father, Eugene Zimmerman. They will bring over their two little daughters. The Duke is half American, his wife wholly, and the children Irish. All will go together on a trip to Japan after being here for a time. Sir John Pepys Lester Kaye and his wife, the Duke's aunt, sailed for England last Wodnesday, Mrs. Yznaga, his grandmother, who usually winters in Louisiana, may remain North until his arrival.

side. They will sail early in December for Europe and will be absent three months Mr. Vanderbilt's mother and sister, Mrs. Vanderbilt and Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, are still abroad, as is Mrs. Frederic Neil-son, Mrs. Reggie Vanderbilt's mother.

William K. Thorn is making his first visit here in ten years. Old New Yorkers recall the Thorn residence in West Sixteenth street, with its fountain in the front garden. Mr. Thorn's mother was a sister of Commodore Vanderbilt, and Mrs. Edward C. Post of 350 West End avenue is his niece. Mr. Thorn was told by his Newport physicians twenty or more years ago that he had but a few weeks to live. It was then that he went to France and varied a life on horseback with other athletic sports. He was one of the organizers of the Westchester Polo Club.

Mrs. Henry Clews is expected to sail next Saturday for this side. She has been recently in Switzerland with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clews. Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hastings will sail for home as soon as they have com-leted the auto trip they are now making in Germany and France.

Count Camille de Borchgrave d'Altena, and the Countess, née Snyder, who were married on Thursday in Philadelphia, will sail for Europe next month and will reside in Brussels, Belgium. The couple are now on their honeymoon. The bride, who has on their honeymoon. The bride, who has a fortune in her own right, is a daughter of Mrs. Thomas Alexander Reilly. While visiting her uncle, Charlemagne Tower, American Ambassador to Germany, she met the bridegroom. Among others at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Hitt. Mr. Hitt is one of the secretaries of the Embassy at Berlin.

Mrs. Daniel Butterfield is with a party of friends at St. Louis. Mrs. De Lancey Nicoli and her family are now at the St. Louis Possibly the young Duchess of Marlborough may time her visit here so as to be present at the wedding of Miss Eleanor be present at the wedding of Miss Eleanor Jay and Arthur Iselin. Col. and Mrs. William Jay will give the breakfast at their home, 22 East Seventy-second street, which adjoins that now owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. Bayard Cutting, where the Marlborough-Vanderbilt bridal feast was held. The elder Miss Jay, not now living, was one of the bridesmaids. Mr. Iselin's fiancée looked particularly pretty yesterday at Mrs. Mackay's fair, held at her country home at Roslyn, L. I.

Cards are here for the wedding on Wednes day of Dr. John Randolph Graham of this home of the bride's uncle, Dr. Ward at Winchester, Va. The bridegroom is a Princeton graduate, class of 1896, and a great-grand nephew of John Randolph of Roanoke. city and Miss Belle Knight Wardi at the Only relatives have been asked to be present to-morrow at the marriage of Miss Cabrielle Townsend Stewart and Walter Girdwood Mulliner, son of the late Henry Mulliner of Leamington, England. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Coe Stewart, Fort Washington Park, Lafayette Boulevard, this city.

Mr. W. R. McDowall and Mrs. McDowall, née King, who are now on their wedding journey, will, when they return, reside in West End avenue. The couple were married

Miss Winifred Folsom and Edward Dela-

Le Boutillier Bros

Silk Petticoats.

Invite attention to their Fall line of Plaid Silk Petticoats, which is shown in splendid variety. Taffeta Silk Petticoats in all the new Fall shades; Taffeta Silk Petticoats, with jersey tops; and Velour, Moreen and Alpaca Petticoats-colors and black.

SPECIAL

Taffeta Stik Petticoats, accordion pleatings and ruchings, at $4.98

$8.50

West 23rd Street

Mass., next Saturday. As many as 2,000 cards have been issued. The bride, who is the fifth of the seven daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Folsom, will wear a gown of chiffon over satin, trimmed with gown of chiffon over satin, trimmed with point lace and the same lace veil that was worn by her grandmother, mother and married sisters, Mrs. Sydney Haight, Mrs. Helen Satterlee and Mrs. C. G. Voorhees, at their nuptials. She will be attended by Miss Georgette Folsom as maid of honor and the Misses Cornelia Van Rensselaer Delafield, Janet Fish, Elsie Bacon and Gertrude Pell as bridesmaids. Marshall R. Kernochan will be best man and the Messrs. John Dix, Howard Dickinson, Frederick S. Battershall, Oakley Vanderpole, Victor Froment, and Ferdinand Jevons Victor Froment and Ferdinand Jevons will be the ushers.

Dr. William Wallace Walker and Mrs. Walker have returned from an extended trip on the Continent to their home at 50 West Fiftieth street. Dr. Walker's marriage to Miss Ethel Hornick was one of the interesting society events of June.

A small wedding next Saturday will be that of Miss Mabel Stebbins and Capt, James Brady Mitchell of the United States Army, at North Hatley, Canada, where the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Stebbins of 33 West Ninth street, have been passing the summer. Capt. Mitchell and his bride will spend the winter at Fort Williams, Portland, Me., where the captain is now stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bachafen Von Echt are now visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pfizer, at Linden Gate, Newport. They passed their honeymoon at Jefferson, N. H., and will come to New York before sailing for Europe. Mrs. Middleton of Washington, widow of may remain North until his arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Orme Wilson and their sons, who have been touring in Germany and France, arrived on the St. Paul. Mrs. Astor, Mrs. Wilson's mother, returned from Newport last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Vanderbilt will pass their Christmas holidays on the other side. They will sail early in December town house next Saturday from Southampton, L. I., This is in anticipation of the wedding of Miss Elsie Ogden Cryder and Woodward in Grace Church on Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Florence Brewer and J. Tuttle Emery of two unmarried daughters come up to their

Montclair next Wednesday at Glen Ridge, N. J., at the home of the bride's parents, Mayor and Mrs. A. R. Brewer. The marriage of Miss Kate Pulsford and Chauncey C. Kennedy is on for next Saturday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Pulsford, at South Orange, N. J. Bishop Spalding of Peoria will officiate at the nuptials of Miss Jean Morton and Joseph Cudahy next Saturday at Arbor Lodge, the Morton country residence near Nebraska City.

Count Charles Cini, who, with his fiancée. Miss Elizabeth Howe of Pittsburg, Pa. is now visiting Mrs. Thomas M. Carnegie at her camp in the Adirondacks, was well liked here socially a couple of seasons ago, when he attended all the functions of note. He had a flat here at that time, and during the summer of 1903 was for some time at Newport. Count Clini is a globe trotter and will probably be of the party gotrotter and will probably be of the party go-ing next month to Japan. The party will include Miss Howe, Mrs. Wynne R. Sewell and Mrs. Julia Watson Horne.

If the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Howe with Count Cini takes place in Rome at Easter, as now planned, the ceremony will be performed, no doubt, by one of the Cardinals and the benediction pronounced by Pope Pius X. Count Cini, as the grand-nephew of the late Pope Leo XIII., is in high favor at the Vatican.

Cards enclosed with the invitations to the wedding of Miss Selena Jacquelin Fanshawe and George Henry Potts, to take place next Saturday at St. Peter's Church, Galilee, N. J., mention that a boat will leave the foot of Rector street at 10 o'clock on that morning for the accommodation of the bridal guests. The bride will wear a costume of white satin with chiffon, lace and tulle and will be attended by her sister, Miss Isabel A. Fanshawe, as maid of honor, and by the Misses Emily B. Potts and Emily Grugan as bridesmaids.

George H. Potts gave his bachelor dinner ast night at Delmonico's. His guests included Rockhill B. Potts, Harold H. Weekes, Arthur Delano Weekes, Jr., Edward H. Carle and E. Leighton Fanshawe, who are to attend him as best man and ushers, and few more friends.

The marriage of Arthur Fortunatus Cosby of 137 East Thirty-third street and Miss Virginia Rolette Donsman will take place next Saturday at Prairie du Chien, Wis., at the Donsman homestead, which is built on an Indian mound on an island in the Mississippi River. Col. H. L. Donsman was connected with John Jacob Astor, the founder of the family fortune, in the North American Fur Trading Company, and the Astors still hold much land in Prairie du Chien. The couple will live here. The bridegroom was with the Rough Riders during the Spanish-American War and Assistant Corporation Counsel place next Saturday at Prairie du Chien. Assistant Corporation Counsel was an Assistant under Mayor Low.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt are here at Mrs. Ogden Goelet's Fifth avenue dwelling, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt come to town from Newport in a Schold, Constable & Constable Lyons Silks.

Baronette Glace Diaphon, Baronette Broche, Satin Suede, Crepe Tosca, Faille de Chine, Taffeta Broche Brilliant.

White Silks and Satins for Wedding Gowns. NOVELTIES FOR BRIDESMAIDS' DRESSES.

Velvets.

SPECIAL, MONDAY, SEPT. 26,

500 yards Black Brocaded Crepe de Chine I.50 yard 45 inches wide; original price $5.00......

Wool Dress Goods.

Cote de Cheval, Corded Satin de Chine, Plain Satin de Chine, Cord de Paris, Natte Plumetis, Drap d'Ete, in the latest cloth shades.

> Fancy Suitings, mixtures and checks, suitable weights for Tailor Made Gowns.

Wraps and Gowns

after latest approved models, especially adapted for afternoon drives and early autumn wear, in light weight cloths and new weave silks, latest tints, including onion, mahogany browns, pastel blues, cream and pearl gray. A Special Showing of Gowns from $38.00 to $100.00.

Courvoisier Kid Gloves.

Importation of new Fall shades for street and evening wear.

New styles in heavy Gloves for Driving and Automobiling.

Our "Regis" Glace and Suede Kid Gloves, pique I.OO pair and overseam, in the fashionable shades.

Women's Furnishings.

Tea Gowns, Negligees, Wrappers, Kimonos, Matinees, Breakfast Jackets.

New Autumn styles in the fashionable and appropriate materials. Eiderdown Bath Robes and Japanese Quilted Silk Robes de Chambre.

Broadway & 19th Street.

It one is Hungry

If one is Thirsty One bottle of

If one is Overtired

BRUSH'S KUMYSS

will give a comforting sense of satiation without a surfeiting feeling of discomfort.

Not a Medicine

First-class druggists have it, 25c.; others sell imitations.

few days, probably on Saturday. Tomorrow week Mr. Vanderbilt will begin to morrow week Mr. Vanderbilt will begin to drive his coach Venture between the Holand House and Morris Park. His two uncles, the Messrs. William K. Vanderbilt and Frederick W. Vanderbilt, and their wives, are due to arrive here on Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbil will probably go at once to their country place at Scarborough.

The Earl of Yarmouth is due to arrive this week and will join Lady Yarmouth at Pittsburg, where she is with her mother, Mrs. William Thaw. The Earl of Yarmouth has just appeared in England in some amateur dramatic performances given for

Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Burden and the Misses Evelyn and Gwendolyn Burden are to arrive here shortly from Europe and will again occupy Mrs. Brock-holst Cutting's dwelling, 99 Madison avenue, as it seems it will not be possible for them to get into their new home up-

Although the Horse Show does not open this season until Monday, Nov. 14, already some of the summer Newport cottage set and others who do not live here are engaging apartments at the hotels. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. M. Grosvenor, now at the Waldorf-Astoria, will remain here all winter. Mrs. Grosvenor's eighteen show horses will be exhibited at the coming Louisville Horse Show. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coles Cabell will, after their wedding journey, live at 204 West Fifty-fifth street. Mr. Ernest Iselin, and Mrs. Iselin, née Whittier, who recently returned from their European honeymoor jaunt, are to locate for the winter at 35 East Sixty-fourth street.

NOVELTIES IN MUSIC. Victor Herbert Premises Some in Lighter Vein and a Serious Work.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.-Victor Herbert, in an interview at the close of his concert season here to-night, said: "I expect to give New York something new in the concert line when I open at the Majestic Theatre on Oct. 7. Several well known soloists of world wide reputation are now under contract and will assist in the entertainments. "In addition, I expect to play a number

In addition, I expect to play a number of new and yet unheard compositions. Two of these are in the lighter vein, while the third, I think, possesses merit enough to live in musical history." The composer is already at work on the programme, which in addition to the new numbers will include selections from "Babes in Toyland," "Babette," "The Irish and several other well known Mr. Herbert is also writing a new opera which will be ready next year.

Hummel-Clark.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., Sept. 24.—The marriage has just been announced of Prof. Frank riage has just been announced of Prof. Frank M. Humm'el of Stevens Institute, Hoboken, M. Humm'el of Stevens Institute, Hoboken, M. Miss Helen Clark of Washington, D. C. The ceremony took place in the latter city on Aug. 8. Prof. Hummel's home is in Bloomfield, and he is the son of former Councilman Hummel. He is a graduate of Rutgers College. Prof. Hummel was formerly a teacher at the State Normal School in Millersburg, Prof. Rummiel was formerly a teacher at the State Normal School in Millersburg, Pa., and Miss Clark also taught there.

Drink NEW YORK BOTTLING CO'S High Grade GINGER ALE and OTHER Carbonated THIRST QUENCHERS Equal to Imported.

DRY-SOL

ANOTHER SPOONER THEATRE The Woman Lessee of the Bijou, Brooklyn,

Takes the Amphion Also. Mrs. Spooner, who for five years has managed a successful stock company in Brooklyn, has now taken the management of the Amphion Theatre, in Bedford avenue, near Broadway, Brooklyn, and will also conduct that, beginning Oct. 3. The first offering will be C. T. Dazey's comedy, "That Girl from Texas," with Cecil Spooner in the title role. This will be followed in the week of Oct. 10 by Edna May Spooner in "When Knighthood Was In Flower," after which the two Misses Spooner will continue to play at the Bijou and Amphion theatres on alternate weeks. The Amphion has been greatly improved this summer and all signs point to the most successful season it has known. Mrs. Spooner, in securing the Amphion, is the first woman who ever attempted to manage two theatres simultaneously. Matinées will be given on Tuesdays, Thursdays and be given on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The box office will open tomorrow.

C. H. Ditson & Co.

867 Broadway (18th St.)

are now offering a large assortment of the following well-known

Kroeger Pianos

Slightly used, but in perfect condition, at prices considerably lower than entirely new ones. Cash or on easy installments.

Large Stock of Planes to Rent -Leading Makes.